INTRODUCTION

The Fergusson Family Papers – Addition (1943-1992) is centered around the Fergusson family, a prominent Southern family. The Fergusson Family Papers – Addition are a gift of Dr. Charles Marshall Fergusson, Jr., Austin, Texas.

The materials in this collection measure 4.0 cubic feet and consists of approximately 1,000 items. There are no restrictions on the materials.

Single photocopies of unpublished writings in the Fergusson Family Papers, Addition 2 may be made for purposes of scholarly research.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Fergusson Family Papers, Addition 2, containing approximately 1,000 items, span the period 1943-1992. The collection is composed of accounts, biographical sketches, cards certificates, diplomas, clippings, correspondence, employment records, genealogical data, invitations, land records, legal records, maps, military records, publications, scrapbooks, speeches, and writings.

The bulk of this collection is comprised of correspondence between family members. This correspondence centers upon the fascinating careers of Lieutenant General Edward M. Almond (Dec 12, 1892-June 11, 1979), Colonel Charles Marshall Fergusson, Jr. (April 28, 1920- _____), and Colonel Thomas Galloway Fergusson (August 28, 1943- _____). Included in this collection are correspondence from then Brigadier General Alexander Haig, Jr., U.S. Army Deputy Assistant to the President for National Security, dated 1971, and then-Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson, 10th Texas District, U.S. House of Representatives dated 1938-1939. Col. Charles M. Fergusson, Jr., was Congressman Johnson's first West Point appointment. The Fergusson family are noted letter writers, and these letters provide fascinating reading. A large portion of the correspondence deals with the military career of Thomas Galloway Fergusson, from his appointment to the United States Military Academy, tours of Viet Nam, Germany, Japan, and Korea to the present.

The majority of the writings include books and articles written by Col. Charles M. Fergusson, Jr. These writings center upon analytical and strategic thinking concerning the United States military. Col. Charles M. Fergusson, Jr., received his Master degree in Public Affairs from Princeton University, 1950, and his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Texas at Austin in 1975.

Other items include photographs of family members and military personnel that served with members of the Fergusson family. Lt. General Edward M. Almond served with General of the Army Douglas MacArthur and was General MacArthur's chief-of-staff for several years. There are several photographs of General MacArthur and General Almond in Formosa, 1950. Madam Chiang Kai-Shek and other individuals are with General MacArthur and General Almond in these photographs. Colonel Charles M. Fergusson, Jr. and Thomas G. Fergusson have many photos of their enrollments at the United States Military Academy and their tours of duty throughout the world.

The Fergusson Family Papers – Addition represent an important contribution to the study of a prominent Southern family by tracing the roles played by members of the Fergusson family in the government, military and scientific communities throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. The range and scope of the collection make this an invaluable genealogical source for members of the family.
