SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

Record Group 171, State Planning and Development, Tennessee Homecoming '86, spans the years of 1984-1986. The record group consists of eight series in addition to video tapes and audio cassettes which were transferred to the library section of the Library and Archives.

Series 1 includes newspaper clippings highlighting homecoming activities in the various communities throughout the state. The clippings appear according to month and year. Series 2 consists of community commitment forms. When a community determined that it wished to be involved in the Homecoming '86 festivities, the Homecoming Office sent a commitment form to the prospective community requesting further information pertaining to its homecoming. This information includes committee members and proposed community activities.

Series 3 is photographic contact sheets located in the vault at II-D-2v. A photograph of the County Court House in Cannon County, Woodbury, Tennessee located in the vault at IX-A-Top. Series 4 is general correspondence pertaining to the operations of the Homecoming '86 Office and projects planned by the office. Series 5 contains county files detailing homecoming activities in the counties participating in the project. Series 6 consists of press releases and Series 7 contains books and brochures generated by the Homecoming Office.

Series 8 is subject files created by the Homecoming Office. The register provides details of each file. Subject areas include corporate sponsorship, biographical sketches, community development programs, public relations work and music poetry sent in to the Homecoming Office

Series 9 includes records of Homecoming '86 kept by Jean Waggoner, who was the coordinator for the project. Her records include National Historical Publication and Records Commission archives from Fisk University, Highland Folk School, Tennessee Tech University, Nashville Metro, Memphis, the Appalachia region, and the state of Mississippi, as well as a file on the Jewish archives. The series also includes questionnaires on many different regions across the state, as well as records of many counties and cities in the state and their contributions to Homecoming '86. Microfilm selection aids, letters, forms, etc. for counties also appear in this series. Also of note are the genealogical conferences and workshops that took place in Knoxville, Memphis, and Nashville in preparation for Homecoming '86. The series also contains records of the Looking Back at Tennessee picture project and includes itineraries, brochures, forms, correspondence, and files on a few different counties and cities and their contributions to the picture project. Also in the series are press packets, lists of press locations, announcements, and an article for Homecoming '86.

Series 10 includes sheet music for different medleys and songs performed by bands during Homecoming '86.

Series 11 consists of oversized materials which include a Tennessee Homecoming '86 poster and a Looking Back at Tennessee poster. These posters reside in map case 6, drawer 14.

Series 9 through 11 were later additions and do not appear on microfilm.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Homecoming '86 was an initiative by Governor Lamar Alexander to emphasize Tennessee culture and heritage. Collection consists of records highlighting homecoming activities in the various communities throughout the state, including newspaper clippings, community commitment forms for events, photographs and videotapes of events, and administrative files of the office.

TENNESSEE HOMECOMING '86 CHRONOLOGY

- 1978 Lamar Alexander walked 1, 022 miles across the state in a successful bid for the governorship of Tennessee.
- 1982 Alexander's re-election campaign focused on "community days." On 45 occasions he worked in projects ranging from constructing new libraries to developing city parks. These projects served as early inspiration for Homecoming '86.
- 1983 January 15. In Alexander's 2nd Inaugural address he stated, "We can have our better paying jobs and keep our special way of life if we use common sense. Let us have our own kind of Tennessee Homecoming; Let us all come home ourselves to the values which make our Tennessee way of life so special."
- 1985 Alexander appoints Alex Haley and Minnie Pearl as co-chairmen of Homecoming '86.
- Alexander identifies 39 pilot communities to serve as models for Homecoming '86.
- 1985 April 1. Alexander appointed Lee Mune as Executive Director of Homecoming '86.
- 1985 July 17. Five hundred communities in Tennessee designated as "Homecoming Communities."
- 1986 January 1. Official beginning of "Homecoming '86."
- 1986 January 1-December 31. During this time more than 6,000 projects and celebrations occur throughout the state, including a literacy festival and involvement in the Smithsonian Folk Life Festival, which itself focused on Tennessee and the Homecoming '86 Special.
