Administrative/Biographical History

The Tennessee Emergency Communications Board is a self-funded nine-member board located within the Tennessee Department of Commerce and Insurance. The Board was created by the General Assembly in 1998 to establish emergency communications for citizens across the state and to assist the state's 100 emergency communications districts ("ECDs") in the areas of management, operations, and accountability. The Board operates on local, state and federal levels to facilitate the technical, financial and operational advancement of Tennessee's 911 systems.

Organization/Arrangement of Materials

With the exception of rearranging a few meeting transcripts to put them in chronological order, the records were left in the order in which they were sent by the Department of Commerce and Insurance.
