

RECORD GROUP 158
MILITARY RECORDS, 1812-1836

This is a collection of miscellaneous muster rolls from three different conflicts: the War of 1812; the Seminole War of 1818; and the Seminole War of 1836. The rolls list the names of officers and enlisted men in a captain's company with their dates of enlistment and occasional remarks regarding wounds, transfers and desertions. The rolls from the Seminole Wars are the only existing military records at TSLA from those conflicts.

In some cases, the records are original and in other cases they are duplications, as well as copies in typescript. The records originated from the Office of the Adjutant General - U.S. War Department and have been microfilmed on one reel (35 mm.). The records have not been numbered in any fashion and this guide has been developed to aid in locating a specific company. The register includes the name of the captain; designation of the regiment; date of enlistment; and number of pages for that particular roll. The names in this register are in the same sequence as found on the microfilm.

The muster rolls from the War of 1812 are a miscellaneous group of nine companies (mostly from East Tennessee) that served as volunteers or militia during the war. In some cases, the muster rolls are accompanied by payrolls and receipt rolls. Most of these records are duplications of the War of 1812 muster rolls found in Mf. 1459. Consult the published index of Tennesseans in the War of 1812 for the name of the soldier you are seeking to find out if his captain's company is part of this collection.

The muster rolls from the Seminole War of 1818 are comprised of the First and Second Regiments of Volunteer Mounted Gunmen of West Tennessee (what is now considered Middle Tennessee was then called West Tennessee). Colonels Robert Dyer and Thomas Williamson, respectively, led these units. Most of the target sheets for these rolls give the county of residence for the captain. Consult the name index of Tennesseans in the Seminole War (1818) found on Mf. 867 or the card file index located in the microfilm room to identify the company that a particular soldier belonged.

The muster rolls from the Seminole War of 1836 consist of the rolls of the First and Second Regiments of Volunteer Mounted Gunmen (under Colonels Alexander B. Bradford and William Trousdale). There are also muster rolls for a regiment of Mounted Militia and a regiment of Mounted Infantry. All of these units appear to be troops from West Tennessee (now Middle Tennessee). Consult the name index of Tennesseans in the Seminole War (1836) on Mf. 867 or the card file index located in the microfilm room to identify the company that a particular soldier belonged.
